SUBHASH GUPTA

s/o Shri Juzal Kishore Gupta. Tehsildar, Sonepat (Rohtak).

Tall and smart, not very healthy. 'Mr. Gupta' is a permanent though conspicuous back-bencher. Can discuss any topic — from 'Cosmic Rays' to 'Einstein's Theory of Relativity'. Often consulted by his friends on advanced topics in science and technology.

Never heard saying 'No' to anybody for anything.

SUBHASH CHANDRA SINGH...

SUBHASH KALRA

Kalra Bhawan, Gandhi Nagar, Fazilka, Distt. Ferozepur (Pb.)

Simple and sober Subhash is a shy fellow. He is an unnoticed scholar. Believes in 'First think and then speak' — though he spends too much time in thinking. Has a weak field of influence to attract many particles but the few friends he has are true to him.

SUBHASH CHANDER GARG

c/o Sh. Chaman Lal Saraf, Sarafa Bazar Kaithal (Karnal) Haryana.

It is universelly acknowledged that a person grows upto the age of 21. However, in S. C. G. we provide an exception — he seems to be diminishing day by day. 'Chacha' or rather Babu Subhash Chander Garg is the Captain of Tenni-Koit team and is fond of playing cards.

SUBHASH CHANDER AGGARWAL

c/o Shri Mangal Sain Jagdish Rai, Near Dhola Kuan Hansi, Distt. Hissar.

A trustworthy sincere friend, always displays a cool temperament. His friends call him "LALA". A great follower of "SIMPLE LIVING AND HIGH THINKING" greets everybody with his usual "THREE DIMENSIONAL" smile. Grasps lessons in no time. Trying hard to become a T.T. Champion. His interests include nothing more than reading 'small" Hindi novels.

SUDHIR KUMAR JAIN

c/o M/s Shambhu Dayal Ilam Chand, Mandi Baraut (Meerut) U. P.

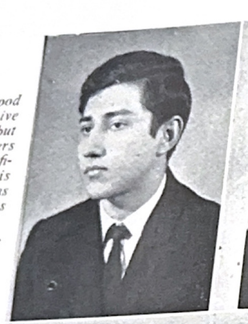

Popularly known as 'Netajee', God fearing Jain is gifted with the qualities of a politician. A true social worker — wisely chosen as the Secretary of the Welfare Society. Dreams of a happy and prosperous India. Eagerly waiting for 1972 elections.

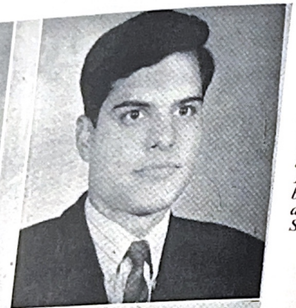

SUDHIR K. GUPTA

6/22, Roop-Nagar, Delhi-7.

'Gupta Sahib' possesses a good personality with a fertile and inventive brain. A permanent back-bencher, but attracts the attention of the teachers by his questions, objections and modifications ... (clear to him only). He is an alarm clock for his friends. Has been collecting a large number of books for his future home Library.

Hobbies : Taking tea in spare time.

SUDHIR MOHAN ARORA

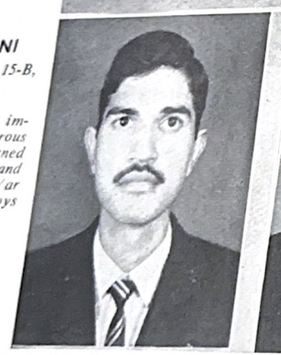

c/o Shri C. L. Arora, Principal, College Amritsar.

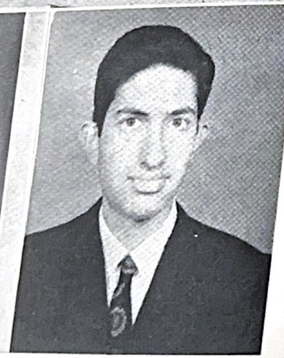

This 'Scholar' believes in the "Action is thy duty, reward is concern," and so is mostly back actions. A good renderer of he informs his approach to by singing those at a full-pitch Has taken to nearly every big way, but has not been able any one. Joint Secretary Society.

SUDERSHAN KUMAR GILANI

House No. 1136, Sector 15-B, Chandigarh.

Smart, tall 'Darshan' has an impressive personality and is generous and friendly to all. Recently turned scholar he specialises in humourous and self-explanatory questions. Likes War movies and western culture. Enjoys sight seeing and natural beauty ... ..

SUNIL KHANNA

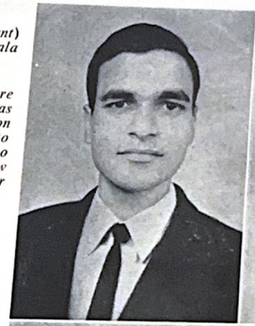

c/o Shri M. S. Khanna, Sector 18, Chandigarh.

Lively, sentimental and sombre at times, that would in short, sum him up ; for sparsely built Sunil can be a tion of these simultaneously to be an ardent believer of the adage 'Music, wine, and wom — though not necessarily in th Secretary Speakers Union.

URESH KUMAR MAHAJAN

o Shri Roshan Lal Gupta (Accountant) unjab National Bank, Dharmsala H. P.)

Gentle Mahajan brings to the fore e beauty of the Himalayas. He has weakness of detaining the submission his class-mates and slipping off to Amajees' home. Has of late taken to oga exercises. Claims to know imming but has never been seen near e pool when there is water in it.

SURESH K. GUPTA

c/o Sh. Hari Krishan Dass, Civil Nazir, Court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Jind.

Gupta greets everyone with a charming smile. Possesses a remarkable power of concentration and retentivity. A regular front bencher.

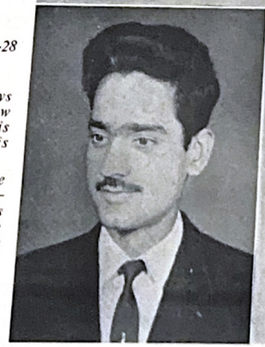

Secretary employment Bureau. Trying to find jobs for his friends, we wonder if he is sure of his own? Hobbies : Learning foreign languages and making pen pals.....towards internationalism.

URENDRA KUMAR GULATI

Shri K. L. Gulati A-28 urbara, Dehradun, U. P.

Tall, and well-built Gulati always esents a cheery face to his fellow stlers. Very polite and gentle he is ways ready to do something for his ends.

Recently, 'Gula-tee' has become pular among his friends as 'Tee'— rhaps due to his repeated long calls Tea, the frequency being very high ring the late hours when he sits down study.

SURINDER KUMAR JAIN

s/o Shri Des Raj Jain, Village and Post Office Ahiya Pur, Via Urmar Distt. Hosiarpur.

perhaps had not thought about 'Jaini' when he wrote 'face is the index of mind.' Tough looking 'Jaini' is a gentle creature at heart. Feels that his village is no less beautiful than Paris. Likes to pull others' legs but has malice towords none. Very particular about his "frail" body, can be seen doing 'Tel Malish' on any holiday.

SURINDER KUMAR GUPTA

c/o M/s Harsarup Kewal Ram, Nai Mandi, Hissar.

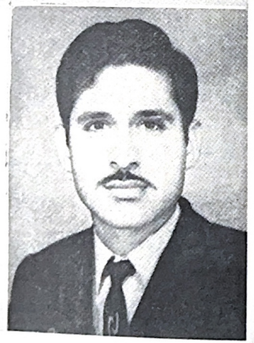

Tall and slim Gupta can be seen in evenings cycling to Sector 17 to have a paan. Very particular about his handle-bar moustaches, he applies various cosmetics to them regularly. Is often seen in the University campus—we hope he is faithful to 'the attraction'.

Artistic by nature he loves to dabble in colours and has lately taken to the guitar. A good photographer

SURINDER TANDON

House No. 70, Sector 16-A, Chandigarh.

Medium statured, curly haired, handsome to the extent of being beautiful, 'Mr Tandon' greets everyone with a dimpled million-dollar smile. Has a charming style of saying 'Hello Darling.' Gesticulates while talking. Liked because of his lovable abuses. Cannot help kissing friends when in a particularly happy mood.

SURINDER PAL MAHAJAN

c/o M/s West End Furniture, Dalhousie Road, Pathankot (Pb.)

Believes in 'Weight is wealth' the mess as the dispenser of The title 'Pehlwan' has been awarded to him. Can sing as well, if he tries, but is hand by his high-pitch vibrant one which he, nevertheless, uses washing clothes on Saturday af

SATINDER KUMAR RELAN

54, Ram Nagar, Sonepat, (Rohta

Relan is studious and very in his submissions. He l company of a chosen few. Ga not attract him during his fou stay in the college. Asks other his hobbies as he himself d know them.

SUSHIL RATAN BANSAL

3, Inder Road, Dehra Dun.

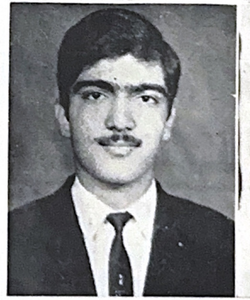

Perhaps God was trying to give us an illustration of Euclid's definition of a straight line—having length without breadth—when he made 'Shorty'. An ideal companion on short excursions he is a lover of Chase novels. For a bet—it would be easier decoding some ancient alphabet rather than deciphering Bansal's handwriting.

A very good photographer.

VINAY KUMAR SHRIDHAR

Pt. Daulat Ram, Vill Raurian, P.O. Basi Daulat Khan, Hoshiarpur.

This unofficial recordholder of the 'Orginator of floaters', commonly known as 'Panditji'. Vinay can often be heard discussing and quarrelling at a high pitch on a variety of topics, sometimes carrying his arguments to quixotic dimensions. Claims to be an authority on palmistry. Is Captain of Squash Team.

TEJINDER SINGH

6A/49 W.E.A., Karol Bagh, New Delhi—5.

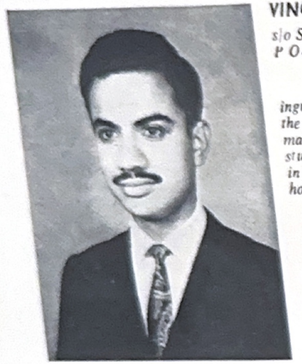

Active though romantic by nature, sensitive TEJINDER is a confirmed day-scholar. Can be seen loitering in the hostel a night before the submissions are due. Takes the trouble of fixing his "Haphazard" beard on special occasions only. Interested in learning German by self-tuetion.

Captain college woollen-ball badminton team.

VASU DEV JOSHI

Vill. & P.O. Kuriala, Tehsil UNA, District Kangra (H.P.)

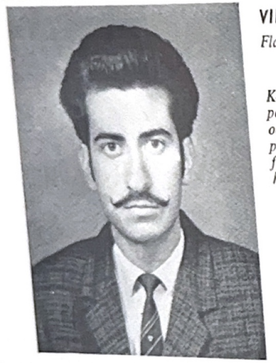

Sincere and industrious by nature, this person starts shivering even at the sight of an eve. Curly haired, weak in health, he claims to have maximum sleeping capacity. Claims, further, to know volley-ball but has never been seen on the nets.

VINOD AHUJA

s|o Sh. Parma Nand Ahuja, Ahuja Street, P O. Fazilka, Distt. Ferozepur.

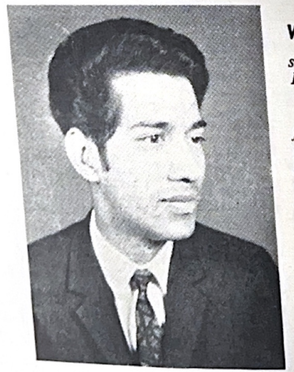

'Rai Sahib' has a way about him to ingratiate himself with anyone—whenever the need arises. An effervescent nature makes him a jovial companion. A diligent student. His recreation lies in shuffling—in his Jeep—between the hostel and his house. Leader of the 'Hanuman Party.

VINOD K. KAPOOR

Flat 9F|244, Sector 22, Chandigarh.

Tall and lean with stooping shoulders, Kapoor can be easily recognised by his peculiar strutting gait. Sees a movie occassionally, if books permit. Plays ping pong and is fond of making pen-friends Has 'Day-Scholar' writ all over his face.

Hobby : Book-Keeping ... those borrowed from others).

VINOD CHITKARA

23, Sarojini Nagar, New Delhi-23.

Humpty Dumpty Chitkara is not all that sleepy as he looks. Often bit by the 'scholar' bug, he can then be seen working late hours and rising early mornings. Fortunately, the idea wears off soon and he is then back to normal. Likes to exaggerate things, but becomes emotionally upset at trifles. Loves listening to old songs.

VIRENDRA KUMAR JAIN

Quiet and sober by nature, Jain is a man of few words. Thinks ahead of his time. Does everything in a very methodical way.

Hobbies : Sight seeing and meeting people.

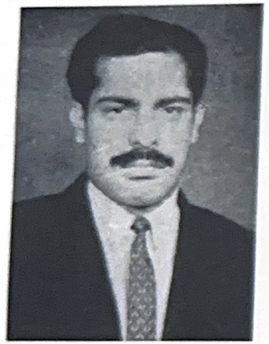

YASH PAUL

V. & P. O. Fazalabad. Teh. Batala Distt. Gurdaspur.

Serene, soft spoken and simply dressed Paul is a boy of few words and still fewer acquaintances. Has recently taken to cross questioning in class.

A very hard worker, luck has not been favourable to him.

YUNG BAHADUR KOHLI

c/o Shri Vashno Dass Kohli, House No. 286, Sector 21-A, Chandigarh.

An amateur palmist, Yung Bahadur is both young in out look and Bahadur as far as bodily health is concerned. A politician with dictatorial inclinations, he makes his presence felt by violent (to the extent of being destructive) sneezes.

Can be heard singing at full volume while wandering in Hostel corridors.

YOGESH SOOD

'Lal Kothi' College Road, L

A rumour is spreading days that Sood was once in the company of two cla does not seen to be true h select band of friend his juniors. Conspicuous good height and good play for good clothes. Has good tennis ahead of him

ADARSH KUMAR

House No. 6, Ward No. 3, Insar Mohalla, Panipat (Haryana)

An extremely brilliant boy, he thinks hard and right. Firmly realizes his responsibility as a future nation builder. He works with a sense of patriotism which is rare to find.

Plays T. T. quite disgracefully.

ANAND KUMAR

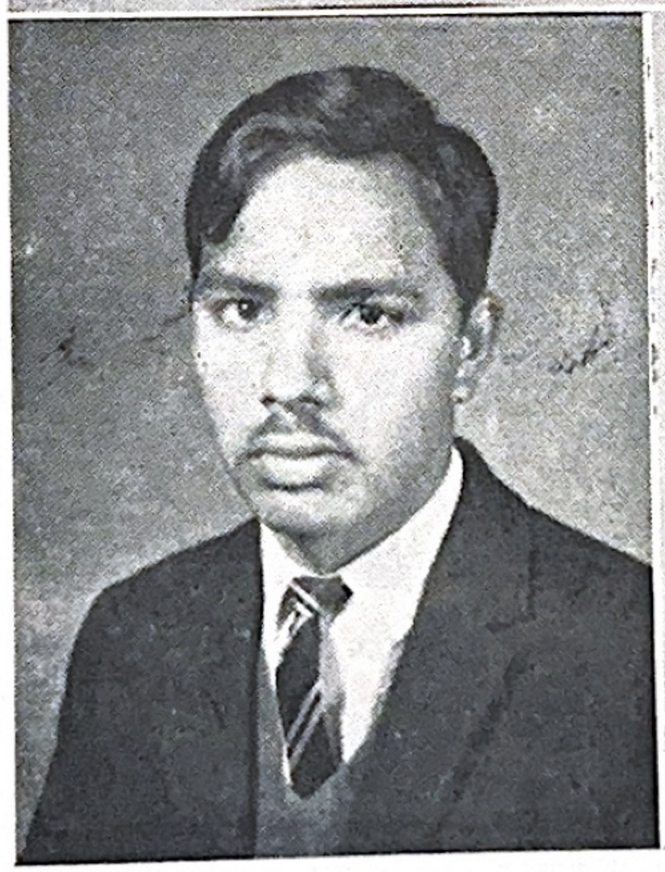

4174, Kotwali Street, Ambala Cantt.

"Roll No. 10 !" ,'Absent Sir". Well, Sir Winston must be in the hostel, probably too lazy to get out of the bed. Anand is a frail boy with a lot of stamina. Recently got hold of a type writer and made a mess of it. Intelligent and hardworking, he plays chess and bridge.

BRIJ BHUSHAN GUPTA

s/o Sh. Arjan Dass, Asmani Mohalla, Jagraon, Distt. Ludhiana.

'Banno' as he is commonly called in his circle is sincere and dependable. Greets everyone with smiling face. Apart from being studious, he plays Badminton and T. T. with great enthusiasm.

HARJIT SINGH HOTHI

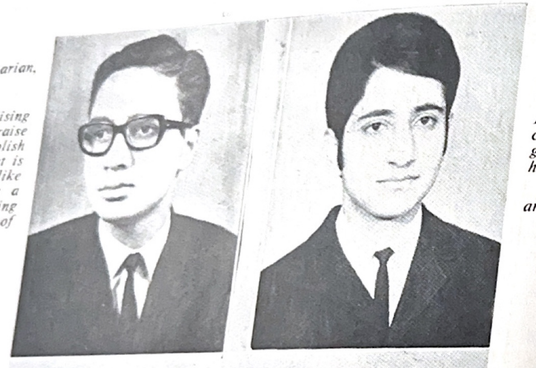

Vill. & P. O. Raipur Rasulpur, Teh. & Distt. Jullundur, Punjab.

A typical Jat from Jullundur, he has always been coming with flying colours in the University exams. One Kilo milk daily is a must for him. Recently he has taken to playing foot ball with gusto.

HARISH KUMAR BHATIA

H. No. 709/8, Kucha Kandharian, Nimak Mandi, Amritsar.

Like some salesman advertising his wares, he even manages to raise the slogan of 'work less and accomplish more'—a very unsound principle that is doomed to a fiasco in a place like P.E.C. Babloo as he is known, is a faithful sleeper and loves nothing better than singing Hindi songs of various movies in the spare time.

HARI AGGARWAL

C/o Chiman Lal Samp Chand, ... Mandi, Distt. Bhatinda.

An imported specimen from ... 'Andu' is good-hearted and ... Has a wide circle of friends ... castes and creeds. A jolly fellow, ... gladly made an entertainment ... his room.

Club Secretary and a good ... ards player.

INDER PAL SINGH MADAN,

272, Sector 16.A, Chandigarh.

Simple, sincere and undependable Madan does everything annoyingly slow. A back-bencher, well known for keeping a torn file. Intelligent, though inclined to let things drift (and drift), he can work hard when inclined to do so.

A keen sportsman inspite of his ambling' gait, he excels in Cricket and T.T.

JASBIR SINGH DHINDSA,

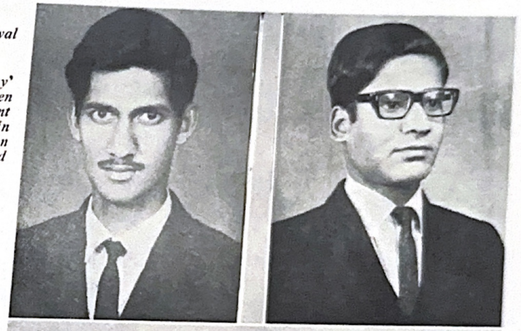

V. Dhindsa, P.O. Nagra Teh. Sa... Distt. Ludhiana.

Small but powerfully ... Dhindsa has considerable power ... head and arms. A quiet boy, ... likes to drown himself in his ... thoughts. Occassionally does ... class and takes infinite delight ... learning some subtle points of ... politics. Polite and hard-working ... has struck to his "Work to Eat."

KRISHAN KUMAR PERIWAL

R.S. Madan Gopal Jesraj Periwal P.O. Fazilka (Distt. Ferozepur)

When God created 'Uncle Perry' He did so by pulling him out between parallel lines. A dedicated student who always does very well not only in class but also on the playfield. An excellent player of Billiards and Badminton.

MAHENDRA KUMAR GUPTA

38, Darya Ganj, Delhi-6.

Probably the only boy in the whole campus, who cannot be rated as untraceable, for there is always the Billiards Room to look into. 'Lala' has a very friendly disposition and an easy going approach to even the most difficult situations. Takes unlimited pride in repairing radio-sets with his twisted screw-driver.

MUKHTAR SINGH RANDHAWA

S/o. Sh. Gurnam Singh; V. & P. O. Pandori Gola, Tehsil Tarn Taran, Distt. Amritsar (Punjab).

A quiet boy, who remains most of the time inconspicuous. Always has his beard done up nicely and tries to look smart. A dedicated worker, he always strives hard for continuous improvement.

Occassionally seen playing billiards or table-tennis.

MOHINDER SINGH KAULDHER

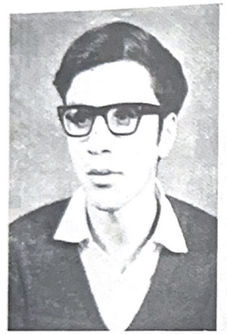

s/o Shri Ujagar Singh Kauldher Nai Akodi, V. & P. P. Mahilpur Distt. Hoshiarpur.

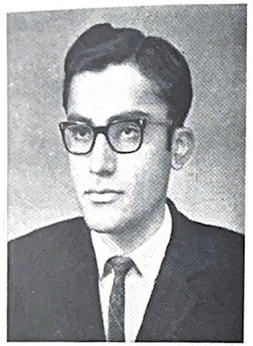

A riser with the cock-crow, Kauldher is a simple, reserved and unassuming man—Sleeps and dreams that life is beauty. Has doubled his weight during the last six months, of course the reason is obvious—Mess Secretary. A keen football player.

NALINI KANT GUPTA

Marble House, Ambala Cantt.

Nalini is five feet eleven, lean and lanky, sociable and sincere. Takes life and work seriously. A boy with great intellect, he loves to fiddle around with electronic gadgets and to get to "the bottom of them". Loves reading fiction and thrillers.

NARESH KUMAR BATRA

3067-1, Sector 21-D, Chandigarh.

Tall and thin Batra is a very person who can't tolerate jokes on self. A very hard worker, he brilliant student. Keeps away games.

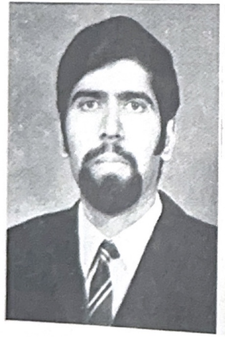

Hobbies : Sight seeing.

RAJIVE SONDHI

House No. 20, Sector 7-A, Chandigarh.

A well built body with a well grown beard. An expert in making a mountain out of a mole hill. Jovial and carefree, once synchronised he can keep chattering for hours together.

Claims to be a good player of squash.

REVTI RAMAN MALHOTRA

c/o Sh. Faquir Chand Malh E.J.73 Ishwer Niwas, Kot Pak Jullundur City.

The smallest boy of our Deptt. is little concerned about his and rightly so, because he believes a small parcel contains the best Occassionally strolls into the club hands in his pockets to render advice to the players from the lines. Loves to hear Indian Songs

RAVINDRA DANG

28, Sector 19-A, Chandigarh.

Ravi has proved that anything the boys can do a girl can do equally well. A delicately built girl with a lion's heart, she is extremely hard-working and friendly person. An avid reader of English literature, a keen debator, she has won acclaim as a speaker and an actress par excellence.

RAJ KUMAR MANOCHA

1245, Sector 21-B, Chandigarh.

Can easily be mistaken as a visitor to our college from high school, Raj has still not had his first shave. A quiet, hardworking boy, who is known to stay in the labs. even when the others have deserted, much to the consternation of the Professors and attendants. Keeps his distance from all play fields.

RAKESH GOENKA

Venuka, the Mall, Amritsar.

Goenka has adopted a unique technique of making unnecessary and irrelevant conversation. Can keep a large gathering busy and awestruck by his 'tall' stories. Tall and handsome no doubt, 'Munu' has for his pair of legs two of the most beautifully shaped billiard cues.

Came out with flying colours in his viva voval interview.

RIPU DAMAN

Sh. Jai Dev Gopal Cloth Merchants Narwana.

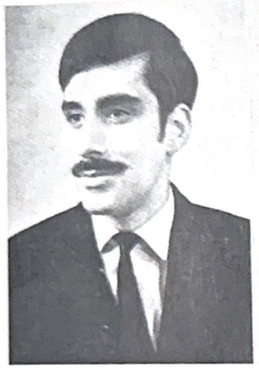

When Ripu talks he can be easily mistaken for a squeaking door. Well versed in the intricate arts of accountancy, he loves to play with money.

Occassionally seen drasing a shutle-cock on a windy morning. His favourite pastime is to play Bridge.

RANDHIR GROVER

2-, Race Course Road Amritsar.

Claims to be smart and handsome, somehow known as 'Chuchu' is noble hearted and dependable friend. Plays and studies well. Very-well known to play cards not gamble. Finds time for Billiards and cricket.

A bridge player to reckon with.

SUSHIL KUMAR

1886-Sector 22-B, Chandigarh.

A day-Scholar who spends a lot of time in the hostel. Has a good collection of hobbies—swimming, badminton, boating and hiking. Very hard working though the results have been very unkind to his efforts.

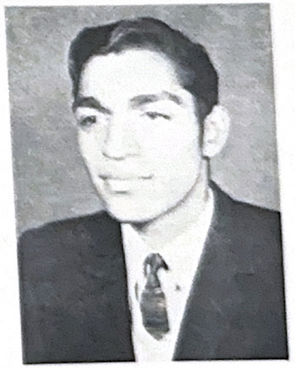

Secretary of the boating & hiking club.

VINOD KUMAR CHADDA

s/o Late Sh. Charan Dass Chadda, Malhotrian Street, P. O. Jagraon, District Ludhiana (Punjab)

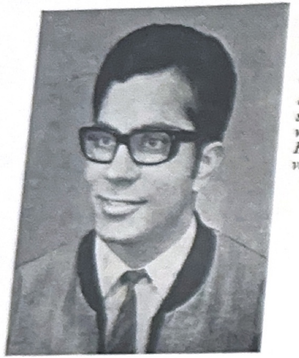

Our selfstyled 'Doctor Gamma' is a man of simple tastes. Labourious and intelligent, Chadda livens any gathering by making laughter at his own expense. Tries to whistle but all he has so far done is to hiss like a snake.

VIJAY VERMA

171, Mehta Street, V. & P. O. Babyal Distt. Ambala

This man from Hong Kong loves his own voice. He can be seen giving advice and shouting and gesticulating amongst a small group of his admirers. Those who listen to him are few but those who hear him are many. Supporting his weight are the two most beautifully spaced bandy legs.

VIJAY MALHOTRA

2207, Sector 21-D Chandigarh.

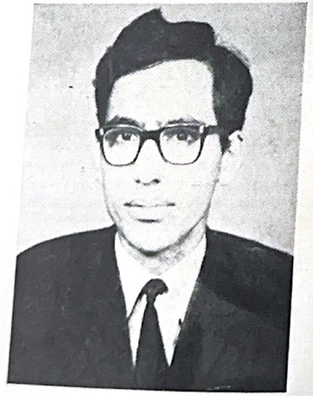

Squarely and robustly built like a 'Shaktiman', Mullo has a laugh for everyone. Can be seen sweating and straining under the weights he practices with. Academically sound and intelligent. His 'warship' has a soft corner for all the varied members of the fairer sex.

YOGESH CHANDER SUD

Shri Dhani Ram Sud, House No. N.A. 226, Kishan Pura, Jullundur City.

Message

You have stayed in this institution for four years. For this duration you have been part and parcel of all phases of activities in the college. In times of difficulties you have been guided by your teachers. Facing to-marror, you are facing the risks of decision which mark off the man from the boy. Heretofore, most of these risks have been taken for you by your parents or teachers, under the wings of family and the college which reared you.

You will be tempted, in the spirit of the times, to prefer security to adventure. Most of you who do so choose will settle into mediocrity. The engineer does not show risks, but he takes them prudently. It will be important to you to choose a field in which you can succeed by reasonable application and effort. Success is a habit, and not a lucky break. Education comes through success in getting a taste of achievement which creates a craving for more. Men are lured to success, not driven. If you succeed, it will be because you are spurred by inner drives rather than by outside rewards.

You have to begin life in a competitive struggle but with odds in your favour. But to go ahead on the main track, you will have to learn to put your organisation first and to adjust yourself to the tempo of group activity You will have to get others to perform and not merely perform yourself You will have to learn to judge men, fit them to their tasks, train them, iron act their troubles, check their performance, appraise and reward their work, and inspire them with organisation spirit.

You know the worth of discipline, Sustained work is no novel experience nor does physical effort appall you. You have been trained for careers of decision and action. Your boundries are boundless but you have to set your own limitations of achievement,

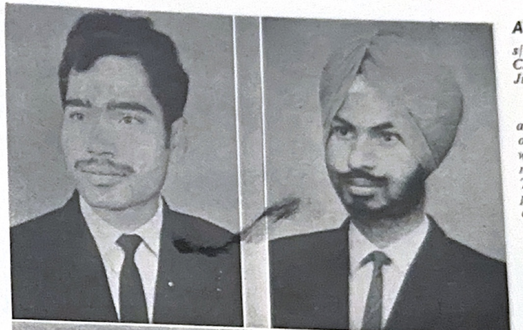

In the end I wish you a happy and prosperous career.
